

PRESS RELEASE

As a parent and/or teacher, what values do you hope to instill in your children? Honesty? Civility? Fairness? Responsibility? Common sense? Tolerance? Loyalty? I am Nobody, trying to live an anonymous life, satisfied with “enough,” trying to make good choices. I don’t always succeed.

When Donald Trump started his rise to power as president, his base excused his bad behavior. He exhibited so many bad characteristics, it was appalling and detrimental to America.

That’s when I started my dictionary—as a passive-aggressive response, my therapy—observing Trump. This dictionary with explanatory chapters expresses my research and opinion:

Donald Trump is b-b-b-a-a-d to the bone. Browse the dictionary for 2020+ characteristics endorsed and enabled by Trumpets.

☺ At the end of every chapter are “lemonade lines” to give you and me hope, a way to cope with an all-too-possible future world.
